Rainbow City Day Thrills Promised

SUNDAY, AUG. 14th IS THE DATE OF FESTIVITIES

East Jordan's first Chamber of Commerce sponsored "Rainbow City Day" on Sunday, Aug. 14th, will combine a number of annual entertainment and competition. The program is being carefully scheduled and will dovetail with the Sportsmans Day program being staged by the Charleveoix Sportsman's Club for the same day, allowing the public to attend the highlights of both events.

The arrival of the Dawn Patrol in the morning will be a real spectacle as some hundred planes are expected to participate. After breakfast the pilots and guests will be invited to try their skill at th Charlevoix Skeet Shoot. At noon the annual Jordan River Canoe Derby will get under way with the finish at the City Dock just before the motor boat races at 2 o'clock. The Outboard Sweepstakes include races in classes A, B, C, Unlimited and Class M. hydroplanes held over a closed course in full view of the waterfront and City Dock and will undoubtedly provide many exciting thrills with the best drivers in western Michigan competing for the prizes.

The sailing classic, the Charlevoix-East Jordan Free-For-All, will again be an important event although the exact finishing time will be dependent on the prevailing winds with the boats leaving Charlevoix at 10:00 a. m.

The following chairmen are in charge of the different events and can provide contestants with full information:

Rainbow City Outboard Sweepstakes — Ted Malpass.

Dawn Patrol — Jim Bridgewater.

Jordan River Canoe Derby — Dan Devine.

Charlevoix-East Jordan Sailing Classic — Hollis Drew.

Rainbow Trout Contest — Ted Kotowich.

Secretary — Earl Clark.

General Chairmen — Al Sinclair and Hollis Drew.

Campaign To Cut Speed Due To Death Toll

The state safety commission's current campaign to reduce speeding has been necessitated by the excessive number of deaths attributed to this form of reckles driving, according to Sgt. Harold Moore, commanding officer of the Gaylord post of the Michigan State Police.

Police agencies of the state are cooperating in the special emphasis program, which is part of a nationwide effort being carried on during July and August under the auspices of the National Safety Council.

"State Police records show there were 1,502 persons killed and 40,892 injured in 140,172 traffic accidents in Michigan last year," Sgt. Moore said. "Speed was the direct cause of one-third of the deaths and a contributory cause in most of the others.

"Contrary to widespread belief, Michigan does have a speed law applying to the open highway. The law does not set the limit at a specific number of miles per hour, but it does require that a car be driven no faster than is reasonable under existing conditions, such as the weather, visibility, volume of traffic, hour of the day and similar factors. Sometimes that could mean that 10 miles an hour is too fast.

"We hope, through the present campaign, to develop voluntary cooperation on the part of drivers in driving safely and at a reasonable rate. The fast driver is not only risking himself, but is a danger to others. The time saved in speeding isn't worth the risk, and certainly there is no justification to step on it just for a thrill."

Sgt. Moore said that last year 3,000 Michigan drivers lost their drivers' licenses because of speed violations.

"Why take a chance on losing your privilege to drive," he added. "More important, why take a chance on losing your life?"

E. J. Junior Legion Defeats Indian River

The East Jordan Junior Legion team defeated Indian River, Sunday, 11-4. There wasn't much doubt as to the outcome of the game as the Jordanites jumped to an early 7-2 lead and then played heads-up ball to hold it. "Red" Evans and Glen Persons worked on the mound and Al "Gabby" Chanda again caught.

Cows Need Some Hay Though On Pasture

Cows need hay while on pasture says W. W. Snyder, dairyman at State College.

At two times during the year the need for hay is especially great: when pastures are short in hot summer months, and when pastures are just coming in.

Scanty pasture during August will mean lower milk production, Snyder advises. Feeding hay will hold up production. Heavy grain feeding will help but is expensive.

The dairyman reports that dairy cows may graze a full eight hours on poor pasture trying to find enough to eat and yet only get one-half or one-third filled. Small Jerseys will eat about 90 pounds and large Holsteins about 150 pounds.

It pays to feed hay even when cows are on very good young pasture, Snyder says. Such pasture stimulates milk production but is high in water and lower in dry matter. The hay will add dry matter and the cows will maintain their body weight.

Many dairymen prefer to have a hay rack near the barn where cows can eat all the hay they want. They save the best hay for winter feeding and use the poorer hay in these racks.

Some dairymen make a hay rack or pile in the pasture and allow the cattle to eat what they want. Again the poorer quality hay is used and the better hay saved for winter feeding.

Snyder says that good pasture and roughage will go a long way toward saving grain.

Creamery Meeting Recessed to Nov. 7

NOT ENOUGH STOCKHOLDERS PRESENT TO CARRY ON

An interesting and informative annual meeting of Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery at East Jordan High School Auditorium Monday night ended in authorization for a recessed session on Monday, Nov. 7, at East Jordan.

It came about when less than 780 stockholders, appeared so that proposed by-law changes could not be considered. Present by-laws of the cooperative require that half of the stockholders vote on such changes but under the suggested changes. this would be reduced to 10 percent.

These proposed changes were discussd by Arthur Howland, Michigan State College, and they are designed to generally modernize the business structure, distribute savings on a patronage basis, change the business year to Dec. 31 termination instead of the present June 30 and make the annual meeting the third Monday in April. Other proposals would limit directors to not more than two consecutive terms (six years) and authorize their election by ballot.

Pesent directors whose terms expire and yho will be voted upon Nov. 7, include Ed Wiltse of Ellsworth and Howard Stephens of Charlevoix, President G. P. VanderArk of Ellsworth presided at the meeting.

Manager Percy Penfold reported the 1948-49 business year showed total income of $1,337,511 and members were paid $1,058.659, or an average of 73 cents per pound, for their butterfat. The plant churned 1,710,362 pounds of butter and dried 183,500 pounds of buttermilk.

Principal talk was by Dr. Tennyson Guyer of Findlay, Ohio, who told many humorous stories and urged the members to keep faith with their organization. He said the tempered judgement of older people coupled with the vigor and enthusiasm of youth, would maintain and expand their business.

Other speakers, talking in pasture and herd culling, were Walter Kirkpatrick, Antrim Co. Extension Agent, and Ed Rebman, Charlevoix County Extension Agent.

Cedar Rest Resort

Robert DeMarse and his mother, Mrs. DeMarse are at Cedar Rest. Mr. DeMarse is Asst.-General Manager of Frigidaire, a unit of General Motors Corp. They flew to Pellston and were picked up by Wm. DeMarse. Going back in the General Motors plane to Dayton were Gale Koogler and Miss Dede DeMarse.

Mr. and Mrs. Pryle of Forest Hills, Pa., are spending some time at Cedar Rest. With them are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murray also of Forest Hills; Denny Murray and Karen make up the rest of the party. Mr. Murray is one of the officials of Westinghouse Union and Justice of Peace of Forest Hill, Penn.

Joining their friends at Cedar Rest are Mr. and Mrs. George Donson of Dayton, Ohio, with their two children.

They're even coming in by air at Cedar Rest. Ross Pitzer arrived by plane from Georgetown, Ohio, to visit his wife, Helen who was guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kimberly of Detroit. Pitzer's plane was piloted by an old AAF buddy, Lt. Howard Blanchard, of Wright Field, Ohio. They made a perfect three-point landing at the East Jordan Airport.

"Cruising Down The River On A Sunday Afternoon" was the theme song of Mr. and Mrs. Kimberly and Mr. and Mrs. Watson Spoelstra. They made the trip down the Jordan River with Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Campbell of East Jordan gliding along in two of Teddy Kotowich's flat bottomed boats. It was two runs, six hits and no errors. No one fell in although Mrs. Kimberly made a solo flight in one of the boats.

Antlerless Deer Licenses Not Ready for Distribution

Sportsmen are requested by the conservation department not to write or call for application blanks for the anterless deer season as forms will not be available until early September and should be secured from regular hunting license agents.

The special antlerless season to reduce farm and fruit crop damages will be held in three areas Dec. 1 through Dec. 10 Area A includes part of Charlevoix, Antrim and Grand Traverse counties; area B all of Leelanau, Benzie and part of Grand Traverse and Manistee counties, and area C part of Allegan county.

Oct. 10 is the postmark deadline for returning the applications to the department's general operations division. Drawings will be held if more applications are received than the quotas call for in each area. Hunters who get a deer in other open seasons are ineligible.

Marriages

Buhland — Graham

A very pretty wedding took place at the Congregational church in Central Lake last Saturday afternoon, when Miss Carrie Buhland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Buhland of Central Lake, and Cameron E. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Graham of East Jordan, spoke their wedding vows in a double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with mixed gladioli and a lighted candlebra. Rev. J. W. Winger officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white satin gown with train and finger tip veil. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli with satin ribbon streamers. The attendants were her sister, Donna, as maid of honor, who wore a dress of yellow embroidered pique and carried yellow gladioli. Miss Mary Jo Brake of Bellaire, and Miss Arlyle Roberts of Charlevoix were bridesmaids and were attired in aqua embroidered pique and carried bouquets of pink gladioli.

The groom was attended by his brother, Archie, Jr., as best man. Joe Buhland, brother of the bride, and Carl Petrie were ushers.

The mothers of the bride and groom each chose a dress of printed rayon and wore corsages of pink gladioli.

Donna Clapsaddle, cousin of the groom played the wedding march and accompanied Henry Drenth who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony.

After a short trip in the Upper Peninsula the couple will be at home to their many friends at an apartment at his father's farm home.

Children Injured In Accident When Car Is Struck Waiting Turn

(From Drayton Plains newspaper of Friday, July 22.)

A short ride to cool off and buy some ice cream resulted in near tragedy for Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hipp, of Sashabaw road, when they were involved in a three-car accident last Friday night. Waiting behind another car in the center lane on Dixie Highway to make a left turn onto Silver Lake road, the Hipp car was struck from behind by a car driven by Robert Lamar, of Pontiac, causing it to hit the car ahead of them.

The Hipp children, riding in the back seat, were miraculously thrown to the floor, the seat on top of them, thus saving them from being badly cut by flying glass.

Three-year-old Linda was taken from the wreckage unconscious; Sheryl, 5, received a bruised knee; Fred, 11, suffered a bruised heel and knee, and Mrs. Hipp was found to have badly bruised ribs and hip on the right side. Mr. Hipp was uninjured.

All were taken to Pontiac General hospital by ambulance, where they were released after examination. Little Linda had regained consciousness on arival at the hospital, and appears to have suffered no further injury.

A passenger in Lamar's car, Bruce Ray, of Pontiac, received serious lacerations of the throat, face, scalp and knees, but thoughtful first aid administered on the scene apparently saved his life, and he is reported to be improving at the hospital.

Although the Hipp car was totally demolished, the whole family agreed that they were extremely fortunate that no lives were lost.

The Letter Box

Northern Michigan's Wild Life

Did you ever go to the zoo to see the birds and beasts kept there for your entertainment? Did you ever ask yourself the question why cities spend thousands of dollars to maintain their zoos?

Did you ever consider how great an attraction Northern Michigan's wild life is to the thousands of tourists who visit us? This increase in wild life can be credited to the fire control and game protection of the Conservation Department.

Through the efforts of the local Sportsman's Club, East Jordan contributes rather more than its share of wild life attractions. The head of the lake is a natural breeding & feeding ground for water birds. Where else in the U. S. can you see, in such natural surroundings, a flock of swan such as ours? Or a flock of 60 or more real Canadian geese? Plus the ducks, the bitterns, the herons, the cranes, martins, red-wings, etc. We should have some deer in the park now that the water is down and the deer yard isn't all mud.

Recently a fisherman from Lansing saw a bear on Monroe Creek. All over the area cottagers see deer on lake shores, in woods and fields. There are at least five blue heron above the highway in the head of the lake. Last winter a family of otter wintered in the same place.

The reverse side of this picture shows that the deer do some damage. To counter this, the Conservation Dept. has opened various areas to deer hunting from Oct. 1st to Dec. 10th, part of this time for bow and arrow only. Just how much this increased hunting pressure will affect the deer population remains to be seen.

It would seem that a farmer who owns considerable acreage of timber and deer cover, and who likes to see deer about, would be justified in posting his property against hunting — provided he didn't hunt them himself.

ADVISES PARENTS ON COMICS, MOVIES FOR CHILDREN

Comic books and movies need careful community supervision and organizations can render valuable service with this problem.

Suggestions to parents concerning the conflicting opinions about comic books and movies come from Dorothy Ekern, Michigan State College home economist.

Parents should know what types of movies their children see and what kind of comics they read. Authorities in the field of child development have pointed out that comics have certain values. So it isn't necessary to forbid them but to see that your child gets the most desirable ones to read.

Parents can introduce good literature to children by reading aloud to them or telling them stories which are from good literature. This will be more effective than constantly telling a child not to read undesirable material.

Your child will see types of behavior on the screen and in comics which will be strange to him and which may give him wrong ideas. Parents can talk to children about different types of behavior and explain good and bad points. This will help the child develop a finer sense of values and encourage him to make his own discriminations well in years to come.

One child may be more sensitive than another and may be frightened unduly by certain things which would not bother other children. Try to understand your child and know his interests and limitations. He may need especially careful supervision in the forms of entertainment to which he is exposed.

Lightning Kills Fish

Lightning, which hit the state fish hatchery building at Paris, also electrified two adjacent trout ponds and is still killing fish, the conservation department's fish division reports.

About 100 trout have been removed from the surface water so far, says Claude Lydell, superintendent of the Paris fish hatchery, with the skin of the fish in some cases peeling off prior to death. Disabled fish are observed with their tails protruding above the water and with definite stiffness of the posterior end. These trout can wiggle their bodies enough to get to the bottom of the pond. Eventually they cease wiggling, Lydell says, and again rise to the surface with their tails protruding above the water.

Widow's Mite

A VERY small man married a widow who was unusually tall and large. A few weeks after the wedding one of his friends came upon him looking very glum.

"What's the matter?" asked the friend. "Isn't your new wife agreeable?"

"She's kindness itself," said the small one sadly.

"Isn't she a good housekeeper—a good cook?"

"None better in the world," said the groom, drooping a little more.

"Then what's the matter?"

"I'd be perfectly happy," blurted the little man, "if people didn't call me 'the widow's mite.'"

RENT IN ADVANCE

In a college town a student called at a boarding house to ask about rooms.

"And what do you charge for your rooms?" he asked.

"Five dollars up," was the reply.

"Yes, but I'm a student," he said, thinking the price a little high.

"That being the case, the price is $5 down," replied the landlady, who had had experience.

He Should Try It

An official was assigned to conduct a survey for the government. Calling on Mrs. Jones, he asked her what she did with herself all day.

"I keep the house clean, cook all the meals, wash the dishes, do all the laundry, mend the clothes, and do the family shopping," she replied.

The official thanked her and made an entry in his notebook. It read:

"Mrs. Jones: Housewife, no occupation."

IDEALIST

Romantic—You wouldn't marry a man for his money, would you?
Practical—Certainly not, but I want a man with a good disposition—and if he's poor he would probably be worried and irritable.

Who's Who

"There's just one thing that puzzles me," said the pretty little thing with the brand new diamond ring.

"Yes, what is it, darling?" asked the happy suitor.

"When you called me the first time and got the wrong number and asked for Elsie and I answered—just who is Elsie?"

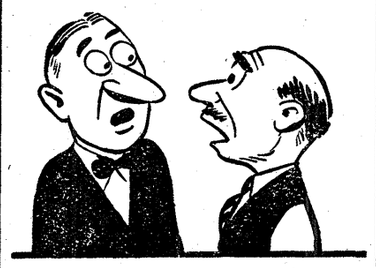

Couldn't Fight

Mike was a ready man in a rough-and-tumble in civilian life. Put on sentry duty in the army, he let several soldiers slip by him "out of bounds."

The sergeant of the guard bawled him out. "Why didn't you stop them?"

"I would, sure," said Mike, "but what could I do with a gun in my hands?"

SUPER-SECRET

"Can your girl keep a secret?"
"She sure can. We were engaged three weeks before she told me."

No Speakee Chinese

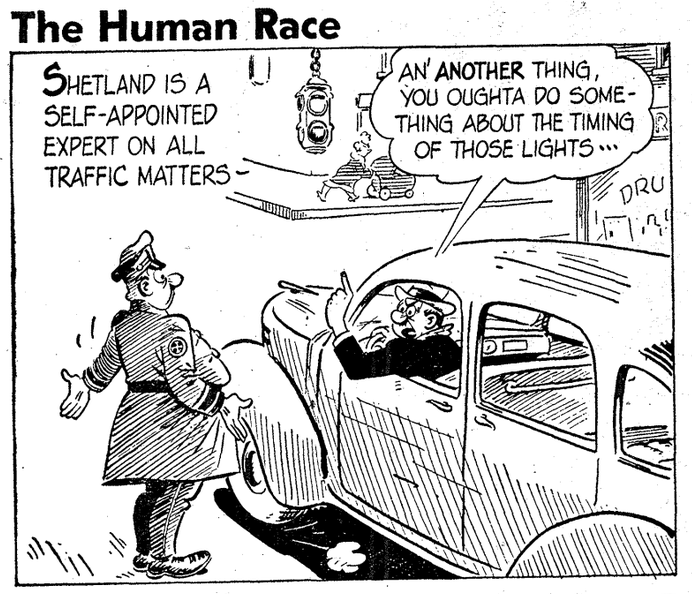

Having looked in vain for a certain kind of notebook in the big stores of Hong Kong, an Englishwoman came upon a tiny, grimy stationer's shop. Entering, she asked the Chinese proprietor: "Have got notebook? All little hole along topside."

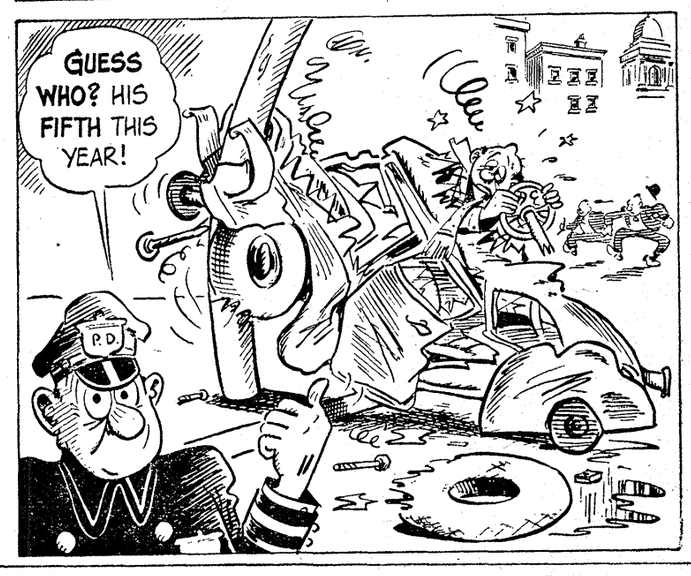

The reply was: "I have several notebooks, madam, of different sizes, with perforated pages."

Credit Is Due

Mr.—Any installments due today?
Mrs.—No, dear, I think not.
Mr.—Any payments due on the house, the radio, the furniture, the rugs, or the books?
Mrs.—No.
Mr.—Then I have 10 dollars we don't need. What do you say we buy a car?

The Human Race

Michigan Mirror
INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Every Michigan incorporated municipality — city or village regardless of its size — is eligible to get a share of federal rent subsidies and federal housing grants.

This fact is emphasized by Governor G. Mennen Williams.

Furthermore, the governor feels that since Michigan taxpayers pay more to the U. S. treasury then they ever get back in federal spending, the Michigan community which does not "get its share" of public housing dollars will in effect be paying for something it does not receive.

Governor Williams told newspaper editors at an Asociated Press meeting at the Higgins Lake conservation training school that Michigan could get as much as $500,000,000 — a half billion dollars.

This startling announcement — so it seemed to the Michigan Mirror factfinder — prompted an inquiry into what it was all about. In brief, here is what we learned at the governor's office:

A 1933 special session act of the legislature permits any incorporated municipality to set up a public housing authority. If the voters approve, the authority may issue bonds, build homes and rent them. So are the cities of Detroit, Hamtramck, Ecorse, Saginaw, Pontiac and Flint have gone into the public housing business. Grand Rapids voters turned down the idea this summer.

Governor Williams in March asked the state legislature to vote a $3,-000,000 bond issue as a revolving fund to help finance the city housing projects.

Because the state constitution forbids the use of state money for internal improvements, except in the case of highways, airports and waterways, the idea was abandoned.

The governor would like to submit a constitutional amendment in 1950 to remove this prohibition for state aid to public housing. He also would like to see the 1933 act amended to include counties and townships as well as incorporated municipalities.

How does a municipal public housing authority operate?

If its plans are approved by the federal housing administration (Raymond Foley is the U. S. administrator), the authority can apply for a federal advance of money. The authority pays this back to Uncle Sam when its tax-free bonds are issued and sold.

These municipal bonds are supported by a federal rent subsidy as security for the bonds. This subsidy makes up the difference between housing rent on a COST basis and actual rent on a BELOW COST basis. When the tenant's personal income exceeds five times the annual rent, he is no longer eligible for subsidized rent in the municipal housing project. Likewise, the subsized rent must be 20 percent less than COST rent in private housing.

How much is all this going to cost the federal taxpayer?

Quoting Foley: "The maximum possible total, with 810,000 units, comes to around $12,000,000,000 — (12 billion dollars)." The rent subsidies are estimated by Foley to come around 7 billion dollars, spread over 30 to 40 years.

Who pays the cost of running the local housing authority? The administrative overhead is covered by money obtained from bonds and rentals.

How much can Michigan get of the federal housing aid. Not more than 10 percent may go into any one state.

Farm housing benefits are also available. In fact, submarginal farms (those which are not self supporting) may obtain an outright gift from the Great White Father. A fourth of a billion dollars has been set aside for housing loans to farmers who cannot get private loans.

In 1929 the Federal government spent $1.3 billion on goods and services; $5.2 billion in 1939; $21 billion in 1948, an estimated $28 billion in 1949. The 1950 spending will be close to $30 billion with a treasury cash deficit of $5 to $8 billion.

Well, there it is: The public housing program in a nutshell.

If your community is interested, officials may write the governor's office at Lansing for details.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Dulles Rebukes Pact Detractors; England Faces More Austerity; U S Steel Dislikes Truman Plan

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

MONROE DOCTRINE:

Pact Fuss

John Foster Dulles, in his first speech as U.S. senator appealed for ratification of the North Atlantic pact and rebuked Senator Robert A. Taft and others opposing it. Taft's opposition was on the grounds that the treaty commits the United States to re-arm its European signers.

Dulles countered with the defense that the pact does not obligate this nation to enter any arms program which "isn't defensible on its own merits." Dulles said that the treaty doesn't give any individual member the right to get any particular thing from any other member. No particular member has any claim on any particular aid he averred. It does not require the United States to build each signer up so that it could defend itself alone, Dulles said.

ANOTHER FOE of the pact, Senator Flanders of Vermont, wanted to extend the Monroe Doctrine in place of entering the pact. He said this nation would not be obligated in details any more than in the original Monroe Doctrine.

Flanders also objected to possible arms commitments to Europe if we signed the pact. He said that if vast arms shipments are made to Europe we don't know what will happen to them in case of communist domination of nations benefitted.

Senator Scott W. Lucas, the Democratic senate floor leader, said that the treaty imposes no legal obligation for an arms program, but added such a program is needed just the same.

The Truman administration seeks a $1,130,000,000 program to rearm western Europe.

ENGLAND:

More Austerity

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, has placed a new austerity program before the British people. He announced that Britain will reduce her spending in the United States and Canada by $400,000,000, or one-fourth, in the current fiscal year.

THE BRITISH financial situation is more serious than Secretary of State Acheson has made it appear. However, it is not insoluble. British difficulties cannot be attributed to the American slump. The British will benefit from declining prices here of raw materials and food. Inflated war prices are blamed for the rapid consumption of America's 1946 loan to England.

There is taking place in England, according to a recent poll of the British Institute of Public Opinion, a shift of political sentiment toward the right. A general election now might turn the Labor party out of office.

Union leaders promised to try to end London's wildcat dock strike as more soldiers, sailors and airmen went into the miles of wharves to unload ships and move cargoes of food.

Vaughan Accused

President Truman has been asked to suspend his military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan.

The request came from Rep. Shafer, Michigan Republican, who cited the army's suspension of two other major generals, Herman Fieldman, the quartermaster general, and Alden H. Waitt, chief of the chemical corps.

They were suspended pending a senate investigation of army contract handling. Shafer said Vaughan was implicated in the same case, but gave no details.

All three generals were mentioned in a recent news story which inspired the inquiry into dealings of "five per centers," those who hire out to obtain government contracts.

STRIKE RESPITE:

Steel Accepts Plan

The steel industry's biggest corporations accepted President Truman's 60-day peace plan under protest, thus averting a nation-wide steel strike. The fact-finding board, appointed by the president will study the dispute over a fourth round of postwar wage increases and pensions and group insurance —and will make recommendations.

The United States Steel Corporation had asked President Truman to alter his terms for a peace proposal with the United Steelworkers, as a steel strike deadline rushed closer.

The corporation demanded that the president's proposed fact-finding board be given no power to suggest a settlement.

The union threatened to strike against four companies — U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Inland. These firms are against any fact-finding boards outside the Taft-Hartley act.

Phillip Murray's big steel union agreed to a 60-day postponement of the walkout at companies which agreed with the president's proposal. The Taft - Hartley act provides for an inquiry board with no power to make recommendations.

Earlier, Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (D., N. Y.) flayed Benjamin Fairless of United States Steel in a speech before the United Automobile Workers in Milwaukee for not acceding to the president's proposal.

Cancer Gauger

A "yardstick" for measuring the growth of cancer has been reported discovered.

A simple, quick and inexpensive method of gauging the growth or decline of a cancer was reported by Doctors Phillip West and Jessamine Hilliard of the medical school at the University of California.

The technique is based on an analysis of blood compounds and will measure the effectiveness of curative treatments. It is not a cure itself, nor is it a test for the presence of cancer.

Three N. Y. Reds Sweat Out Trial In Jail

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New York ruled that three Communist defendants, on trial for conspiracy and recently jailed for contempt, must stay in jail for the remainder of the trial between court sessions.

The action of federal judge Harold R. Medina in ordering the three men, Gus Hall, Harry Winston and Gilbert Green, confined in jail, was upheld by the appeals court. With eight other defendants and high party leaders, they have been free on bail.

The defense to the circuit court that their sentences were indeterminate since the length of the trial was not known was argued by attorneys in their appeal. The judge refused to allow this plea and passed sentence.

FIRESIDE CHAT:

"Selfish Interests"

President Truman charged in a "fireside chat" to the nation that "selfish interests" are making budget-cut requests which threaten to "blunder" the nation into depression.

In his economic report, Truman assured the nation that it is not in a depression, despite business decline. "Political reasons" lead some people to want depression, he said. He added that depression can be avoided.

He blamed "selfish interests" for the tax cut that congress passed over his veto and for the denial of anti-inflation curbs he requested.

HE FEARED a third great blunder and warned that "to slash government expenditures now would add to the downward trend." He defended his $42,000,000,000 budget for government spending the next 12 months.

He said, "If we follow the wrong budget policy at this time and slash our expenditures, we will decrease employment, cut down investment, weaken our defenses, and injure our efforts for peace."

His speech was seen as a movement to line up popular support for a showdown fight with the economy bloc in congress which is demanding that government spending be cut to income.

He criticized those who say we are in a depression.

"Many of these persons for political reasons would like to have a depression," he said. "Others are saying that there is nothing to worry about and an increase of the number looking for work is a good thing. This attitude ignores the human suffering . . ."

"CONEY ISLAND:"

"Trivialication"

Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago, demanded that mankind's expanding knowledge be turned toward achievement instead of "trivialication" and formation of a huge "Coney Island."

He spoke at the Goethe Bicentennial Convocation at Aspen, Colo.

He said that world catastrophe is inevitable if the "tribal self-adoration, which goes under the name of patriotism continues unchecked."

He asked for a world union of "men of good will," and said that world government is a step in the right direction to avert global suicide. He argued that "communication" with Russia is possible if other nations were sincerely willing to try.

A "moral, intellectual and spiritual revolution is the only thing that will turn the world from a downward course, he argued.

He attacked the "purposelessness" of contemporary living, made more so by technology, and declared that new-gained leisure has been used for meaningless recreations.

Of atomic energy in peace and war he said, "If we have war, we shall be blown to bits; if we have peace we shall be bored to death."

Hutchins compared today's civilization with the fears and hopes expressed by the 18th century humanist, Goethe. The theme of his speech was "Goethe and world unity."

Goethe's dream for the world was that it should be a "world of friends," Hutchins said. He advocated Goethe's "civilization of dialogue."

Injured

Among the injured in the crash of the New York-California airliner that came to grief in the Santa Susana mountains near Chatsworth, Calif., was movie actress Caren Marsh. Latest estimates place the death toll of the crash at 25 with 18 injured. The plane crashed shortly after the pilot radioed that a violent fight was going on in the plane among the passengers.

SCIENCE:

Turbine Aircraft

Research on gas-turbine engines at McGill University, Montreal, may bring about improved flying. A turbine engine is a scientific version of the mill wheel. It has many small blades instead of a few big ones, and instead of water, hot gas is used to push the blades.

THE HOT GAS is produced by a blowtorch in which fuel is burned with the aid of air scooped from the atmosphere and compressed

Do You Believe In Americanism? or Do You Believe In Communism?

Who Wants To Be A Communist?

Believers of Americanism

We should thank God today that we live in America; that we can still speak our own mind and do as we please, so long as it is within the law, work as we please and vote as we please; that the way ahead of us is still wide open. We all know how easily these priceless privileges can be lost. For there is no place that a man can stop when he starts trading away his liberties. Step by step it leads into slavery. There is nothing but misery and want at the end of the road when the people of a nation split into selfish, quarreling groups and classes; that has been the law of mankind since the beginning of time.

If you cannot discipline yourself, there will always come a tyrant to teach you. It takes spunk and sweat to be a good American citizen. Don't let anybody tell you differently. You'll never find peace in any doctrine that preaches violence, such as communism. You'll never be happy under any kind of government that denies the love of God and the natural goodness of man. You'll never get ahead in any scheme of life that puts a halter on your initiative and your ingenuity.

Above all, beware the man—whether he is a right or left, or the middle, or of the proletariat or whatever label he wears—if he tries, under any pretex to trade you out of your right as a good American citizen—te is a tyrant, who will take away all your liberties, one by one. You have been challenged to prove the stuff you are made of—prove it, then you can proudly say, I am an American, I believe in Americanism and want no part in any other isms.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Psalms 92; 103; 136:1-9, 25-26.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 116:1-8, 17-19.

Thank God for God!

Lesson for August 7, 1949

WHILE the little children are thanking God for birds and bees and oatmeal, let us grown people rise and offer some adult thanksgivings. Reading the Psalms of praise which are this week before us, we get the impression that these poets were grateful above all not for anything God had given but for God himself. Thank God for God! sings through every line.

Dr. Foreman

Suppose there were no God? He is the Creator of all; without him nothing else can be. The nature of time and space, of molecule and atom and electron, the mighty power that holds all together; the emergence of life, of mind, the possibility of thought, of values, whatever is and whatever can be, is because he wills it so. That there is energy in the atom, light in the sun, refreshment in the rain and power in the lightning—that these things can be and that anything can be, we thank God.

* * *

No Unrighteousness in Him

SUPPOSE God were not good? A vast and vicious devil, his immense mind brimming with intelligence and malice, could perhaps have contrived a universe more enormous than this corner of one which is known to us. A creative devil—what pangs he could have invented to torture his creatures!

It may be, indeed, that only on this earth is there rebellion against the Creator, and that elsewhere in God's dominions all is peace. But suppose it were true that all the evil in the world was ordained by some Creative Hatred?—all the goodness in the world only an illusion, a deception?

Suppose it were the intent of some devilish maker of man finally to destroy all his creatures, or worse still, to make every creature long bitterly for death but find none? Let us thank God for God, the God of mercy whose loving kindness endureth forever.

* * *

He Knoweth Our Frame

LET us thank God for his providence. He did not create and then forget us, nor give us so much freedom that we could destroy his majesty or bring to naught his mighty plan. Let us thank God for his infinite love and interest that spares and speeds us, his knowledge of our frame, his remembering even the hairs upon our heads. Let us thank God that being infinite he can have a care for the infinitesimal, and that not a sparrow falls to the ground without our heavenly Father. Let us thank God whose care for us is such that without his knowledge not the least of his creatures can fall asleep.

From death and disaster we and the nation and the world have been saved, time and again. Frail is the craft in which the human spirit is launched through this pathless universe; yet it holds, and will hold, because the universe is there by his almighty decree.

In spite of the chaos of men's unruly wills, in spite of we know not what rebellions in the spirit world, he sees to it that not one good is ever wholly lost.

* * *

Who Redeemeth Thy Life

LET US PRAISE God for his promise and for his faithfulness. That he has not left us to our sins nor given us up though long we scorned him; that his divine patience outlasts the hasty heart; that he spared not his own Son but freely gave him for our sakes; that none who come to him will be cast out; that the God who creates is the God who redeems, we praise him from a heart of love. As the Psalmist of old knew himself as one of the children of the Covenant, so may every man who takes God's promises and makes them his heart's own.

To take this God for my God—this is the beginning and the end of religion. To step out on his promises as on a bridge that stands secure above all the floods of eternity.

To trust his faithfulness though all the race of man were liars; to look down the vista of the years without fear, knowing that the God of our fathers will be the God of each succeeding race, that his mercy is everlasting to everlasting and that his kingdom ruleth over all—this is to know him, and this is life eternal. Thank God for God!

A Message To The Ministers and Christian Workers Everywhere

Now you will find my text in the 22nd chapter of Revelation and the 18 and 19 verses which read like this: For I testify unto every man that heareth, the words of the Prophecy of this book. If any man shall all unto these things God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book. And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this Prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life and out of the Holy City, and the things which are written in this book.

Now we must realize that we are what is known as Gentiles and that the apostle Paul was called of God to the Gentiles and children of Israel. Acts: 9 chapter 10-16 verses, now this is the record of his calling you will find his teachings in his letters to the different churches. etc.

Now the Bible was not known as chapters and verses as we have now until between 1560-1603. A group of men gathered together and put it in verses and chapters and also put in or "added" to the Bible which has caused much confusion ever since and separated many of God's people. For instance, say that there is an the unknown tongue is mentioned in the letter to the Corinthians. The word unknown is written in what is known as the italic print or letters. The word unknown tongue was not mentioned in the orginal Bible. It was added to it by man. May God help us. Now there are people who go by various names who preach and teach people subverting whole houses that everyone that gets baptized with the Holy Ghost and Fire will speak in either tongues or an unknown tongue. The Apostle Paul plainly tells us that all do not speak in tongues, all do not interpret and definitely says in Corinthians, Chapter 14, verse 10 there are it may be so many kinds of voices in the world and none of them without signification. And also says therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice I shall be unto him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh a uncivilized. In other words tongues mentioned in Gods word are definitely different languages.

There are also people that go by different names who call themselves Holiness people or christians that claim that tongues are of the devil. Now I want to call your attention to the Corinthian letter to what is known as the 12 chapter, verse1. It reads like this: Not concerning spiritual bretheren I would not have you ignorant. And the 4th verse reads like this: Now there are diversities of gifts but the same spirit. And on in the letter he says that there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord now condems most of this modern day teaching. He says diversities of operations, but the same God. So let us realize there is a gift of tongues and a gift of interpretion or it would not be in God's word and so you people are taking away from God's word. All please remember the Text.

Now remember, we cannot put the Holy Ghost in a straight jacket and say it is any one kind of manifestation or it would be by works. Paul says definitely it is not by works. If any church will obey God there will be some people in the church having different gifts and all gifts will be in the church.

You will generally find me in the Alba Mission at East Jordan at 3 p. m. Sunday afternoons and at the Alba Mission Ass'n at Alba Thursday nights. If you wish I can give you those men's names that changed God's precious words and where they were when they did it.

Now if you are teaching people that everyone does speak in tongues or that there is not a gift of tongues, etc., you are either taking from the Bible or adding to it and you will receive the plagues contained in the Bible and we see it happen on every hand. May God help us.

The apostle Paul wrote in the Ephesians letter what is known as the 4th chapter, 11 verse: And he gave some apostles and some prophets and some evangelists and some pastore and teachers for the perfecting of saints, for the work of the ministry, for the body of Christ. Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ. Now does your life measure up to the life of Christ and does your teaching and preaching measure up to that of your teacher sent from God, Christ, and the apostle. If not remember the text.
